if he is listening without listening, then he laughs at my foolishness." And the third type of mind is the majority. Says Lao Tzu, "If the majority doesn't laugh at you, he aware that you must be saying something wrong. If the majority laughs, only then are you saying something true. When the majority thinks you are a fool, only then is there some possibility of your being a wise man; otherwise, there is no possibility."

It is said in old Tibetan scriptures that Gied comes many times to you but he never finds you there, where you are. He knocks at your door, but the host is not there — he is always somewhere else. Are you in your house, at your home, or somewhere else? How can Gied find you? No need to go to him, just be at home and he will find you. He is in search of you just as you are in search of him. Just be at home so, when he comes, he can find you. He comes, he knocks, millions of times, waits at the door, but you are never there.

Important

Control is a poor substitute for awareness, a very poor substitute; it doesn't help much. If you are aware, you need not control anger, in awareness, anger never arises. They cannot exist together; there is no coexistence for them. In awareness, jealousy never arises. In awareness, many things simply disappear — all the things that are negative.

When you are aware, you can use everything. Even poison becomes elixir when you are aware. And when you are asleep, even elixir becomes poison — because the whole thing depends on your being alert or not. Acts don't mean anything. Acts do not matter — you, your awareness, your being conscious, mindful, is what matters. What you do is not the concern.
