another world becomes revealed to you. Maya disappears, the illusion disappears — the illusion is there because of your sleep, your unconsciousness.

- All buddhas have laughed when they awaken. Their laughter is like a lion's roar. They laugh, not at you — they laugh at the whole cosmic joke. They lived in a dream, in sleep, intoxicated completely by desire, and through desire they looked at existence. Then it was not the real existence; they projected their own sleep on it.

- You are taking the whole existence as a screen, and then you project your own mind on it. You see things that are not there, and you don't see things that are there. And the mind has explanations for everything. If you raise a doubt, the mind explains. It creates theories, philosophies, systems, just to feel comfortable that nothing is wrong. All philosophies exist to make life convenient, so that everything looks okay, nothing is wrong — but everything is wrong while you are asleep.

- Philosophies are explanations, some explanations of things that cannot be explained, pretending to know about something that is not known. But they make life convenient. You can sleep better, they are like tranquilizers.

- Much research has been done. Ninety-eight percent of messages coming to you, your mind never allows to enter — 98 percent. Only 2 percent are allowed to enter, and that 2 percent the mind also interprets. I say something, you hear something else. I say something else, you interpret it in such a way that it doesn't disturb your sleep. Your mind immediately gives you an interpretation. You find a place in your mind for it, and the mind absorbs it; it becomes part of the mind. That's why you go on missing Buddhas, Christs, Heraclituses and
